Cap 7 Paris 24 th February 1874

The Debay terra-cotta figures are com-= mon things & cannot be called Art X there are not 13 of them that would suit. Nos. 435. 440. 441. 442, 443. 444 7 445 prage 5 4 Nos. 453 7455 pagel are about all that might do. They said they had (which I did not see I are not in the catalogue) 2 of Canvas dancing girls about same seze- If you are resolved on economy you might suggest their taking on trial Some few of these figures (say 4) I if then don't suit they could be fut in the garden of the Louise home, after a trial or use in waiting for better things. I once sent Avery 2 of these figures you might as I him about them and where they are to be seen in ch. 3. Since your letter I have been looking about and can say what I have seen at the Louvre & a better guide I think cannot be had.

In the interior Court all the niches are met get filled and it some time since Francis first - These Statues are of white marble - 2 of them were on the ground I they are not quite my height (I am about 6 ft.) 4 they are placed in the 1 2 2 +3. Stories - so I don't think it would be nee - cessary to have for the levreran statues larger than life, as you thought Some of the Statues, under hap"III, were paid as much as 8000 fs - On the outside, is the beautiful facade on the Saine, where are the friezes of Jean Tonjon, there are 13 niches & these are felled with stone statues, as I proposed, and produce a very fine effect. The Springing point tops of the heads of mone of these statues either outside or in are placed higher than the springing point of the arch of the niche. In the largest niche of which you sent drawing there is 8ft. bin. from bottom of niche to springing point - take off 2 fr. bin. for the pedestal & you will have just lift, the height necessary for the statue. I am convenced from observatu that the best effect is produced when the top of the head of the Statue ends at the springing front of the arch. From your drawing the pedestals are marked 3 ft. 7 in - are they in place, if so, came they be replaced by others of necessary height - in reference to these Stone Statues I have seen an artist sculpton who says he will execute them at 2000 or 2500 fs but thinks they can be done for 2000 fs. If you are willing to spend this sum a trial sought be made with 4 to commonce and have thought if it can be done to have the cartist inspire himself with the 4 figures of Jean Gorgon of which you have the bronze bas reliefs, + portray by suitable objects instead of the vases they hold the
